When was phone masts at Redhill Fire Station last tested for emissions

Query:

Please can you tell me when the phone masts at Redhill Fire Station were last tested for emissions? I have contacted the company 'Element' that did the last emission test on 24th January 2019 and I cannot find a more recent test. Element unfortunately will not let me know whether one has been completed since that date. Perhaps you could tell me please if they have been tested more recently and where I might find a copy of the report.

Response:

Under the terms of the Freedom of Information Act, a request for information can be refused where one or more exemptions listed in the Act apply. In this case we are claiming the following exemption: Section 21 – Information accessible by other means. You can find this information using the following link.

I can confirm that emission testing was stopped in June 2023. This was because it was shown not to be a risk and there was no legal requirement for testing to be done.
